have are that in Toronto, we see a real ong in both the renovation side and of oth commercial and residential. I believe on in the market right now and on the go hand-in-hand. Long-term, Toronto's a estate agent. It's also a fantastic city to nate that it worked out. My dad and I out of the blue. It went from one time with a bathroom renovation to working ing for us. We get to control the quality ired an outside painter that came uld not have any control on things like had an issue a little while ago with the we replaced them. The clients are out really well for our clients that they nder one roof. We plan to run with this ss. To renovate both commercial and that clients will get the highest price

JV: Do you have any favorite real estate shows?

£: I love Million Dollar Listing. L.A. being my favorite because it's not reality, but it is. You see them spend money on marketing listings and then have it taken away or people decide not to sell, or they don't get enough money. That's real life. I've been very fortunate in my career but not every deal goes perfectly and there are deals when I spend money, and it doesn't sell or clients decide they love their house too much to sell. We had one a little while ago. We renovated a home and when it came time to sell they were so happy with it, they refused to sell. It's a reality. I'm very honest about what a house will sell for. The show is a reality. I have my phone with me all the time. I'm there for my clients, you never know when. It's not always such an easy deal, It's very satisfying though when you close a really hard deal. I don't know if you could follow me in a day. It's a great lifestyle, and I love it, but I'm all over the place, all the time. It suits my personality. I love it and wouldn't change it for anything!

- The vibe interviewed my father and I, it was a blast!

PHILANTHROPY

With every business deal that I am fortunate enough to close, I make it my mission to give back to those in need. I believe that there are an infinite amount of worthy causes in the community, and the following are some that I have chosen to list.

ST. BALDRICK'S FOUNDATION

At 3 years old, Luke was diagnosed with one of many childhood cancers — rhabdomyosarcoma. With his particular diagnosis and stage, his mom says Luke's chance of survival was "too low to even mention." But after 70 weeks of grueling treatment, and 2 years off treatment, Luke is now 7 years old and cancer free. Thanks to St. Baldrick's Foundation, this was possible. St. Baldrick's is the world's largest private funder of childhood cancer research grants, giving more than $24.5 million in new grants in 2013 alone.

SPONSORSHIP OF PARTICIPANT FOR 8TH ANNUAL HOOPS CHARITY BASKETBALL TOURNAMENT

All financial contributions to this event were directed through UJA Federation to Jewish Family & Child's Supplementary Financial Assistance Program that serves the impoverished in our community. The program's goal is to reduce the effects of poverty on the most vulnerable members of the Jewish community and by participating in HOOPS, the participant was able to help offset the cost of basic needs such as housing, food, clothing, and transportation. This was in addition to aiding children living in poverty by providing support for recreational activities, dance lessons, sporting activities, computers, as well as synagogue and school outings.

COVENANT HOUSE SLEEP OUT

As Canada's largest youth agency, Covenant House Toronto provides 24/7 crisis shelter and transitional housing on-site and in the community along with comprehensive services, including education, counselling, health care, employment assistance, job training, and aftercare all under one roof. At the Covenant House Sleep Out, business leaders across North America sleep out so kids don't have to, raising money and awareness for homeless youth. Over 91% of all proceeds go directly to Covenant House programs and youth.
